ABOUT US

From France, Napa, Sonoma and the Finger Lakes to PA, Kieran Robinson's winemaking journey has brought him all over the world. His passion for wine began while working at a winery during college at Ithaca College. Upon returning to his hometown of Downingtown after college, Kieran had the opportunity to experience the challenges of making wine in a nontraditional wine region: the Philadelphia countryside.

With a thirst for knowledge and strong fervor for winemaking, Kieran moved, with his then girlfriend Kristie, to the Northern Rhone region of France. Working in France gave Kieran an appreciation for French viticulture and winemaking philosophies. After work was finished in Côte-Rôtie, Kieran and wife/co-owner Kristie moved to Napa Valley to expand their winemaking knowledge. After working at Cakebread Cellars, he moved to Sonoma working at Paul Hobbs Winery and then at Jericho Canyon Vineyard in Napa Valley. Kieran and Kristie launched Kieran Robinson Wines with the 2009 harvest, focusing on Rhone varietals.

In 2018, Kieran and Kristie started their new label – R FIVE WINES – with the goal of bringing the California wine tasting experience to the east coast since Kieran grew up in Downingtown and Kristie in Malvern. Production increased to include wines from a variety of American Viticulture Areas (AVAs) in Northern California such as Russian River, Dry Creek Valley, Sonoma Valley. In late August 2021, R FIVE WINES opened where Kieran and Kristie share a taste of Sonoma with you.
